HOMEWORK

Chapter 1 Part 1

It was a hard day home from work for the tired human Noah Hamilton, from little Pet Store and Cafe on Grant Street, and Princeton Hill in the middle.

It was the seventh in the three years that I owned the cozy, portable ceramic for the Hamilton's Pet Store and Cafe, and I was already getting tired of the same old routine.

Every morning I would wake up to the sound of my alarm clock, and then I would go to the bathroom, and then I would go to the kitchen and start preparing coffee and breakfast for myself. I would then eat my breakfast, and then I would go to the bathroom again, and then I would get dressed, and then I would go to the Hamilton's Pet Store and Cafe, and then I would start the day's work of the convenience clerk.

Then I would go to the bathroom, and then I would go to the cafe. But then, it would be the weekend, and I would get to sleep in, and then I would go to the bathroom, and then I would go to the kitchen, and then I would go to the cafe
